2018 Los Alamos Teen Center Collaborations

Significant partnerships and collaborator details follow in the chart below.

Los Alamos County: Beginning in 2011, annual contract of approximately $294K to operate Los Alamos Teen Center. Partnered with LAC Parks, Rec & Open Space Division for a variety of teen-related events.
Delle Foundation: Provided funds to cover a part-time administrative support and advertising coordinator.
Los Alamos High School/Los Alamos Public Schools: Los Alamos Public Schools staff and teens worked with the Teen Center on Safe Prom, Safe Homecoming, Senior Appreciation Night and promotion of other special events. LAPS Life Skills class brings students on a regular basis to utilize the space as part of their community outings. LATC Youth Mobilizers and Teen Council have worked with students from the LAHS Leadership class for cross-pollination of ideas and events. The Los Alamos High School e-sports team hosted their team tryouts over 2 days in October at the Teens Center. Members of the LAHS Tabletop Game club helped host a community games day fundraiser at the Teen Center.
Juvenile Justice Advisory Board: Funds a variety of events and programs held at the Teen Center. In 2018 JJAB funded Safe Prom, Safe Homecoming, Arts & Resiliency, Youth Mobilizers, as well as funding for various outreach, field trips and member engagement events. JJAB's Youth Resource Specialists also met regularly with teens and parents in private meeting rooms at the Teen Center. LATC staff and teen representatives participate on the Board. JJAB also contracts with local Mental Health professional agencies to provide counselors and a teen support group in the Teen Center facility.
Leadership Los Alamos: Sylvan Argo and George Marsden co-chair LLA's Youth Session and host it at the Teen Center facility.
DWI Planning Council: George Marsden is Vice Chair of the DWI Planning Council.
Teen Court: Sent teens to do community service at Teen Center. This was at times teens' first introduction to the Teen Center and offered connections to the Teen Center community and engagement as members even after community service requirements were met.
Kiwanis: Donated food on a weekly basis.
Los Alamos Community Health Council: Members are strong advocates for teen center and connecting to resources. Recent health profile states the importance of having a safe place for teens to associate in our community. Teen Center Director (Sylvan Argo) is a member of the Council. Los Alamos Teen Center hosted monthly meetings of the Youth Resiliency Subcommittee of the CHC.
Los Alamos Community Members: Donated money towards Annual Campaign & ongoing program support. Donated food, art supplies, musical instruments, board games and other in-kind items. Volunteers donated time towards special programs/events.
Los Alamos Nukes and Bombshells Youth Rugby Teams: Hosted team events at the Teen Center. Members of the Rugby team are active at the teen center and work on various projects.
Aaron's Kids Program: Provides non-perishable lunches to teens in need of a meal. Over 60 lunches plus snack items are dropped off weekly at the teen center, and teens know to ask for them if they are hungry.
PEEC: Teens hosted a video game night at PEEC's Planetarium.
Los Alamos Police Department: Officers hosted a DWI awareness activity with impairment goggles and pedal carts.
PAC 8: Partnered with the Teen Center to connect teens to a teen drinking prevention program creating PSAs for the community. Teens and PAC 8 staff used the Teen Center's recording studio to record original music and voice overs for a variety of PSAs.
Rotary STARZ: Rotary Starz asked Sylvan to come speak at their meeting; they donated $200 towards LATC programs and want to support in other ways.
United Way: The Teen Center hosted the United Way's Youth Team Hamburger fundraiser. (Also hosted planning meetings with youth and adult mentors.)
CB Fox: Donated in-kind services repairing furniture. Donated seasonal candy.

Senior Appreciation Night partners: The Teen Center hosted SAN committee meetings. Event partners included (but are not limited to) LAC Parks & Rec Division, the Y, the Teen Center, Family Council, Youth Activities Center, LAPD, Atomic City Transit, Kiwanis, LAPS Foundation, and the DWI Planning Council.

Friends of Los Alamos Pride: The Teen Center participated in the first ever LGBTQ+ PRIDE festival held in Los Alamos. Sylvan Argo, George Marsden, and other LATC staff served on the planning committee for the event. George Marsden currently serves as a founding board member of the organization.

Los Alamos Cooperative Market: Donated food. Currently exploring partnership options for teen cooking classes.

Los Alamos Jazz Project: Hosted the Middle School Jazz Project in performance for Evening of Arts & Culture; currently planning to host the teen musicians for a regional event. Exploring other partnership opportunities to host LAMSJP activities with high school musician mentors.

LANL: Hosted activities at LATC as part of LANL's 75th anniversary celebrations.
